NEW YORK, Sept. 6.-A fire started this morning at 47. Pike street in the heart of a densely populated tenement district, and destroyed No.'s 47, 49 and 51 and part of the adjoining blocks. The police and fireman quickly aroused the army of tenants and ordered them to leave at once. An instant later torrents of half clad humanity tumbled out of the dozen door-ways and swarmed in the streets. House Roles Adopted.

There was a small attendance of members present when the House was called to order to-day. Immediately after the formal opening proceedings consideration was begun of the new code of rules, the pending question being on the amendment of Mr. Kyle, of Mississippi, striking from the code, as reported from committee, the clause making one hundred members a quorum in Committee of the Whole.

Mr. Catchings, a member of the Committee on Rules, said that since the recess last Saturday many members on the Democratic side had asked the Committee on Rules to accept the amendment, and the committee had thought it proper to accede to that request. The committee had no desire to force anything upon the House.

The preamble which was adopted before the platform was taken up is in the nature of a declaration of principles, and is quite long. It opens with a general demunciation of the Democratic, Republican and Populist parties for avoiding declarations upon the subject of moral and temperance legislation, declares for temperance legislation, declares for temperance legislation, the abolition of unnecessary offices, ballot reform, a railroad commission immigration from other States of the Union, economy in public affairs, a graduated income tax, an increase of school term, which would give country children equal educational ad-The preamble which was adopted be country children equal educational advantages with those in the cities. This could be done, it is contended, by using for school purposes the enormous sum annually expended by the State on account of the liquor traffic.

LIQUOR MAN'S GREAT ENEMY. LIQUOR MAN'S GREAT ENEMY.

The platform proper embraces eleven sections, and contains nearly one thousand words. It opens by denouncing the liquor traffic "as the aggressive foe of all that is held dear by civilized nations, the great enemy of popular government and the interests of the people;" quotes extracts from decisions of the State and United States courts, and upon them bases the declaration that all license laws are unconstitutional, and that, with this same, are inseparably associated all of the are unconstitutional, and that, with the saue, are inseparably associated all of the moral, political and economic questions of the day; declare that the circulating me lium of the country "may rightly consist of gold, silver and paper, every dolla on Johnson's Island, sprang a leak this morning about 1 o'clock, and as a consequence, the whole city was plunged in Egyptian darkness. First the arc lights went out, and then the incandescents followed. In some parts of the city, walking was positively dangerous, and on the the railread crossings near the Union Depot, pedestrians carried their lives in their hands. At 2 o'clock this morning the plant had not been put in successful operation. Colonel M. L. When Mr. Morgan resumed his seat the clock showed the nour to be ten minutes before 2. No senator made a sign of desiring to occupy the interval of ten minutes, after which it would be tise duty of the Vice-President to lay the repeal bill before the Senate as unfinished business, after a short pause, Mr. Voorhees suggested that the Senate as unfinished business, after a short pause, Mr. Voorhees suggested that the resolution should go to the calendar and that the Senate should proceed with the repeal bill. The suggestion met with opposition on the part of alessive. Morgan and Harris. Mr. Voorhees moved to take up the repeal bill, and the motion was agreed to—yeas 37, nays 21—as follows: Yeas—Messrs, Allison, Blackburn, Brice, Caflery, Cullom, Davis, Dixon, Dolph, Fanikner, Frye, Gallinger, Gibson, Gormon, Hale, Hawley, Higgins, Hoar, Hunton, Lindsay, McMillian, McPherson, Manderson, Mitchell (Oregon), Palirer, Pasco, Pettigrew, Platt, Quay, Ransom, Sherman, Smith, Stockbridge, Vest, Vilas, Voorhees, Washburn, and White La.—37. In Nays—Messrs Allen, Bate, Berry, Coke, Dubons, Hansbrough, Harris, Irby, Jones (Ark.), Jones (Nev.), Morgan, Peffer, Perkins, Power, Pugh, Shoup, Squire, Stewart, Teller, Waithall and Wolcott—31.

The bill having been laid been because of the vote just taken or because it was the unfinithed business.

Mr. Stewart took the floor, outlined his speech of yesterday, and resumed it at the point where he had left off—the inconsistency of the New Yord papers in new urging immediate action on the repeal bill, without further debate, while in January. 1891, they had berated Republican semitors for their position on the force bill, and for favoring cluture. This difference of position he ascribed to the fact that two years ago there was "no money at stake," while now the New York papers were "obeying the mandates of the money power and seeking to wrench from the people their rights under the Constitution."

Congress. The substitute was lost—yeas 65, nays 148.

The code of rules was then adopted without division, and Mr. Henderson, of lowa, who was standing beside the petition box, dropped in the first petition under the rules. It was an unimportant one. On motion of Mr. Wilson (Dem., West Virginia), the Committee on Ways and Means was granted leave to sit during sessions of the House.

The House then, at 3:50, adjourned until Saturday. After the adoption of the rules Speaker After the adoption of the rules Speaker Crisp announced that it would be in order for members to send bills and resolutions to the Speaker's desk for printing and reference, and petitions to the box for reference only. Immediately every page on the floor was converted into a messenger and loaded with bills, Many members did not wait for the services of a page, but themselves bore the precious loads to the desk and delivered them. The clerks were almost overwhelmed by the mass, there being several hundred bills presented. The mere work of numing them and sorting them for reference will occupy the file clerk and his assistant

The Kearsarge and the Nantucket.

(By telegraph to the Dispatch.)

Washington, September 6.—The United States steamship Kearsarge and the old monitor Nantucket, the vessels that had such a thrilling experience off Cape Hatteras last week in the hurricane, left the Norfolk navy yard yesterday for Wilmington, N. C., where the Kearsarge will be utilized for four days for the North Carolina naval reserves, and the Nantucket utilized for four days for the North Caro-lina navai reserves, and the Nantucket turned over to the authorities of that State for permanent use by the reserves. The damage to the Nantucket has been re-paired and the little vessel is now in good condition for service,
